A GLOBAL MEDIA WITH A BELGIAN ACCENT

Forbes Belux is part of the publishing group Ventures Media, a pioneer in the media sector for over three decades. Under the leadership of editorial director Joan Condijs Forbes Belgium aims to become a benchmark for the Belgian business landscape.

Over the last few decades, Forbes has established itself as one of the leading brands in the world of business. While its rankings of the world's richest people and the world's most successful companies are one of the hallmarks of this medium, Forbes' reputation is also built on its content, which highlights the men and women who make business happen, its analysis of major economic trends and the technological innovations that will shape tomorrow's world. Forbes stands out for its in-depth articles, interviews and portraits of the leading figures in business, as well as its research into the latest trends and its lifestyle sections. Forbes Belgium will be incorporating all these ingredients in its quarterly magazines and on its website. The publications will have a strong Belgian accent, with most of the content produced by local teams in both Dutch and French.

WHAT PROMPTED THE LAUNCH OF FORBES BELGIUM?

Forbes Belgium was born from a powerful vision: to inspire, empower, and guide. We saw a gap in the Belgian market and stepped in to fill it by delivering exceptional local and international business and leadership content. We believe in the potential of individuals, businesses, and ideas. Our mission is to inspire our readers while providing a valuable platform for advertisers to connect with the Belgian audience. We are dedicated to becoming the reference point for economic, financial, and societal discussions within the Belux territory.
